

GROWING ALLIES

building the capacity for social justice everyday

The Growing Allies Training is unlike any other training offered at U-M:

- You will examine your multiple identities

- Small groups will dialogue on how to be active as allies in multiple communities

- The retreat engages you in an experiential, reflective format

- You will have the opportunity interact and exchange ideas with a wide range of identities and experiences

- You will learn about the shared experience of allyhood in personal spaces and in the wider community growing allies is a new initiative designed to engage you in your identity as a social justice ally & empower you to act as an ally everyday.

October 13-16, 2007

Michindoh Conference Center
Participation is free for more information:

robbie routenberg robinrr@umich.edu

to apply, visit:
igr.umich.edu/get_involved.html

last chance to apply:
sept 28, 12 noon

Growing Allies is a program of the Division of Student Affairs Division of Student Affairs, University of Michigan-Ann Arbor growing.allies@umich.edu

